Welcome

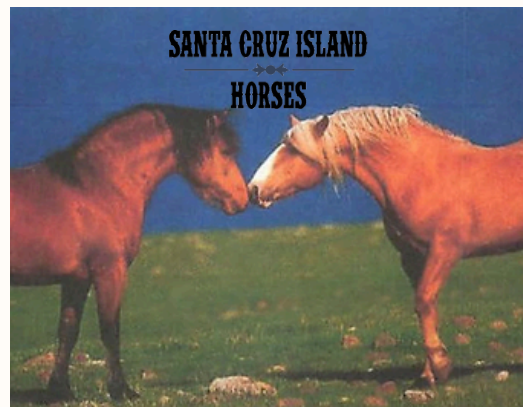

(Lou Gonda, Kelly Gonda and Christy Reich and two of the Santa Cruz Island Horses)

About Us

El Campeon Farms was established in 2000 as a training base for high performance show jumpers and the family's string of hunters, equitation and young horses. For the 2008 Olympics, Will Simpson and El Campeon's Carlsson Vom Dach, were named to the US Team and helped to secure the gold medal in team show jumping. Since then the farm has evolved into a training facility for multiple disciplines including Working Equitation.

El Campeon Farms is the breed steward for the Heritage Horses of Santa Cruz Island, a rare and unique Spanish Colonial breed that was removed from the Island in 1998. Through their partnership with renown geneticists and veterinarians they have been able to preserve the breed and add to its numbers.

Since then the farm has evolved into a training facility for multiple disciplines including Working Equitation. ECF also serves as the base for the Preservation of the Santa Cruz Island Horse project. Working Equitation quickly became the ideal sport for the SCI horses. Their gentle nature, expressive gaits, and friendly personalities have helped them earn a favorable reputation within the Working Equitation world as well as the Western Dressage and Classical Dressage arenas.
